Extertion of the Monopoly.

[From the Janesville (Wis.) Gazette.]

General Washburn has our thanks for a copy of his speech upon the postal telegraph. It is a question of great interest to everybody in general, and to the members of the press in particular, and his speech contains much useful information on the subject. The people of the United States will half the day when they can have similar facilities for using the telegraph, that they now do with the postal service at a reasonable charge and he freed from the grasp of a few men, who know nothing but self and fro converting to strictly private uses that which ought to be a great public blossing. The nature of these extortioners is pretty well imparted by their treatment of us and the people of Janesville. They were not satisfied with furnishing us reports at fair prices, although when they pretended to do so the only thing reliable about it was the bills which were preented with great regularity, but they fancied that more money from the west buyers, traders and merchants by selling private despatches than if we putished their meagre reports. But like the child trying to grasp two apples in its little band, lost both, for our citizens are determined not to auomit to such conduct, and now they have the gratification of sending money, nore every month to pay the expenses of this office. In their greed to get more they have converted this office from a paying one shot a non-paying one, and everybody here is glad to! it, and are determined to patronize them just as little is possible until they come to their senses and little favor whose Legislature has granted them so hand.

Relief from Telegraph Monopoly.

It is against the principles of the democrat, which believes in a distinct government of the people, without universalited interference or usurpations on the part of those temporarily in power, that the government should assume control of individual branches of industry; and it is just as much against the principles of an honest democrat that monopolies should be permitted to thrive and build themselves up at the expense of the people. ciples of an honest democrat that monopolies should be permitted to thrive and build themselves up at the expense of the prosperty of the country, we have always spoken our most earnestly in opposition to any monopoly, as being dangerous and disastrous, and among all these, very lew have neen worse than that of the telegraph. It has been close and rigorous in its management, extertionate in its charges, controlled in the interest of a select lew and used with all its might to crush out guelt as did not receive their favor. Its privileges have never been within the reach of people of ordinary means and hence its unity, except as a monstrous monopoly, has been schously crippled. It should be for the public good. It is not that the expenses are so large that telegraphic tolis and rates are so exorbinant, but it is because the strait is a decided, cold-hearted monopoly. It should be brought within reasonable reach and made more useful, and while the present managers of the afferent lines will not do this, while there is such an unanimity of charge find steat with all lines, and they all precend to be compoung, we can but look with favor upon some action that will corapel these monopolies to treat the public at least decently.

The New Postal Telegraph Bill.

[From the Des Molees (lowa) State Register.]

The Postal Telegraph bill recently introduced by General Washburn, is perhaps the most feasible as well as the most practicate plant yet proposed. We judge this from a perhapit of its keass and propositions, and from the excitement that its introduction has caused among the Western Union monopolists, who, with their lobor, are already bustly at work laying plans for the bill's dereat. But we trust and believe they are massing their forces in vain. The speech made by air. Washburn, in introducing his pill, demonstrated with decreases the necessity for the radical reform, and made clear the feasibility of his plan. The views advanced by him were concurred in by many of the ablest members of the Blouse, and an interest on behalf of the reform has been awakened within angurs well for its triumph.

THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH SYSTEM FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The week opened on an animated state of affairs in Wall street, general attention being again diwhere dealings were of an excited and feverish character. The clique programms for an advance being seriously interfered with by the extra sale of government gold, an ingenious plan was devised to do away with its injurious influence upon the "buil!" movement. When the bids for the $1,670,000 at the Sub-Treasury came to be opened it was found that there were as many as forty-seven proposals, for a total of nearly seven and a half millions of dollars. The prices, however, were in most instances so far below the market that the cliques who were the instigators of the orders to the different brokers knew they of the orders to the different brokers knew they would not be accepted, or, if accepted, that the gold with the price in the Gold Room. The amount bid for—$7,319,000—is the largest recorded under similar circumstances. The effect upon the market was loagical. Gold, which had opened at 122% and magical. Gold, which had opened at 122½ and declined to 121½ before the sale, now ran up to 123½ amid great excitement. As the afternoon progressed it became evident that the cliques were taking advantage of the opportunity to sell, and as at this time a telegram from Washington announced the introduction of Senator Sumner's bill for a return to specie payments the price gradually declined to "buil" tactics have been abandoned. On the contrary the work of to-day is only an interinde in the golden drama. The combinations who are manipulating the market are sanguine of putting gold to 130, which is an advance as much beyond its real value as its recent price—119%—was a fall below. The clear rise would, however, be only ten per cent. But, by these intermediate fluctuations, selling at a small advance and buying back at a small decime, they intend to net there, forty or perhaps even fifty per cent in the advance from 120 to 130. Such, therefore, is the situation of the gold market at present, and it promises to develop in interest each day. The speculative spirit so long dormant has been aroused, and the victims of the great gold somsh are among the most eager to re transpired to-day in connection with the routine of business in gold. It will be remembered that upon the reorganization of the Gold Board, after the September panie, much objection was made to the restoration of clearances to the Gold Exchange Bank, whose officials, it is alleged, acted with favortism, if not indiscretion, in the comfact of their business. Many brokers have, in fact, since conducted their dealings outside the bank, and have cleared through it only when compelled by the necessity of certain transactions. To-day the firm of Messrs. Trevor & Colgate refused to submit a check for $500,000 along with their statement, unless the bank simultaneously returned them certified checks for the differences due them from the bank. Both parties brought their dispute before the Gold Board, Mr. Harney, the president of the bank, reciting his views of the subject and warning all parties having dealings with Messrs. Trevor & Coigate to settle in future ex-clearing house. The firm stated that they would not trust a check for so large an amount to the bank pending the settlement of statements, masmuch as they feared the emparrassment and delays likely to arise from a recurrence of the September embargo on the bank's operations. Finnally, Mr. Harney said the bank would yield on this occasion, but would insist upon an enforcement of the rules of clearances in future. So the matter ended for to-day. The Gold Exchange in executive session this afternoon decided that the Arbitration Committee shall hereafter have power to adjudicate in all transac-tions between members of the Board whenever or wherever such transactions may take place.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Although the Long Room was for a greater portion of the day neglected for the more exciting scenes of the Gold Room there was an interesting market for stocks, the prices of which were in the main closely sympathetic with the movements in gold, revealing the fact more plainly than ever that the speculative combinations are working both markets together. Thus, under the depression in gold at the opening, there was a hesitating and uncertain tone to the stock market, but when the numerous bids at the Sub-Treusury had been opened, and gold ran up to 123%, the whole list took a sudden upward start, the leading railways being most conspicuous in the advance. The Vanshares were run up to 93% for the tral touched 90%. Northwest common, catching the contagion, bounded up to 73%, and was closely followed by Lake Shore, Rock Island and St. Paul. Exceptionally, Reading was quiet and heavy, holdnow began to unload, and prices fell off, the market closing dull and inactive. The range of prices for the principal stocks is shown in the following

THE MONEY MARKET was easy at six to seven per cent as the rate on call loans, with pledge of government and miscellaneous collaterals. While the greater number of transact tions took place at seven per cent there were more at the lower rate than on Saturday, when money was loaned at six per cent for the first time since the initiation of the fall activity. Commercial paper was more current at previously quoted rates, the rate on call not as yet operating for a decline in dis-

COVERNMENT BONDS.

A baoyant market for governments ensued upon the advance in gold, and the prominent dealers report a scarcity in bonds which embarrasses them in the fulfilment of orders. A private telegram from the Treasury Department, received to-day in answer to a request for information, states that the funded debt consists of $800,000,000 registered bonds and $1,300,000,000 coupon bonds. Inasmuch as about $1,000,000,000 of the latter is held in Europe and as the balance is largely in the possession of banks, corporations and private investors, the scarcity of the speculative issues in Wall street is readily accounted for. The market at the close was a fraction below the highest prices of the day. The final street prices were as follows:— United States currency sixes, 109% a 110; do. sixes, 1881, registered, 117% a 115; do. do., conpon, 118 a 116%; do. five-twenties, registered, May and November, 116% a 116; do. do., 1862, coupon, do. do., 116% a 116%; do. do., 1864, do. do., 115% a 116%; do. do., 1865, do. do., 115% a 116%; do. do. registered, Jenuary and July, 114% a 114%; do. do., 1865, compon, do. do., 114% a 114%; do. do., 1867, do. do., 114% a 114%; a 116; do. ten-forties, registered, 112 a 112%; do. do., coupon, 112% a 112%.

The market for Southern securities was excited and active for the Tennesses, which rose to 50 for the new and 56 for the old bonds, many of the "shorts" being again frightened into covering especially as the bondholders' committee are expected to meet with a very favorable reception at the hands of both the State Legislature and the Constitutional Convention. The Virginias were strong and the South Carolines advanced to 75 for the new bonds For the latter there are some large orders in the market from insurance companies having corporations doing business within her orders shall deposit the security of State bonds with the Comptroller. The Committee on Securities of the Stock Exchange to-day admitted all the-bonds of South Carolina to the regular call. The North Carolinas

A Meb Tekes Atchison by Storm and Hangs

A Meb Tekes Atchison by Storm and Hangs a Negro.

[From the St. Joseph (Mo.) Union, Jan. 6.]

The Union of Tuesday mentions the fact that a Mr. Cox, living near Atchison, had been shot and mortally wounded by a negro, while returning to his nome from the city, and that a negro had been arrested and had confessed his guilt. On Tuesday night, at about half-past eleven o'clock, a mob of people, said to be from Walnut and Mount Pleasant townships, came into the city, surrounded the jail, took the negro Johnson, who shot Cox, from the custody of the jailor, and hanged him from the railing of the Frith street bridge.

The Champion says there was a rumor in the city early in the evening that such a move would be attempted, and the Shertif, it is said, made some proparations to guard against it, but they seem to have been entirely instequate. The fire alarm bells were rung and dozens of people rushed to the engine houses and into the streets, but they were unarmed and unorganized, and almost as soon as they had got into the street the mob was coming down Fifth street, dragging the prisoner, with a rope about him, and having already shot him in saveral places. Near the corner of Fourth and Commercial streets the mob fired a dozen shots or so and rushed on to the Fifth street bridge, where they hanged the heipless, wounded, bruised and manually, and then left as and believed none of the citizens were prepared for such an emergency or to resist such an outrage, on law and humanity. And about as soon as the first stroke of the bell was sounded they had the y desoner out of jain and were rushing down the hill with him. Our midnight despatches state that at a special meeting of the Council resolutions confemning the action of the mob were passed, and Vast the County Attorney had been employed to save the County attorney in prosecuting all persons anown to be engaged in the stair.
